The BluBridge headphones are designed to simplify your mobile lifestyle. Who doesn't like to work out with music? Whether you workout in a gym in the great wide open whatever your passion the BluBridge headphones deliver with their light-weight, water and sweat resistant design; allowing you to focus on your activity not cords and adapters. Now you get the full fidelity of your iPod, iPhone, BlackBerry or Android phone without the hassle of cables getting in your way.

Control play/pause and track forward and back right from the headphones allowing you to store your phone or iPod in a backpack, pocket or purse. When used for calling it functions as a Bluetooth headset. The built in mic has noise suppression allowing you to talk in noisy environments and the incoming call goes to both ears so you can easily hear your caller. Use the included silicone ear cups for a comfortable fit that last for hours and as a bonus they create a better seal which provides a better deeper bass response.
